The Greens at Greenwich and Bruce Museum present their third Afternoon of Wellness: Connect, Explore and Experience-Linking Art and Music

Tuesday, June 11th, 4-6pm

Join us for a collaborative afternoon exploring the connections between our physical and mental health and the mediums of art and music. Using different pieces in the galleries as inspiration, participants will create their own rhythmic and emotive musical expressions. During the workshop component participants will explore how music helps them tap into their emotions and explore the different emotional impacts of lines and densities. Reservations required and space is limited. Register at brucemuseum.org
