The Greens at Greenwich and The Bruce Museum present
Afternoon of Wellness: Story Telling through Art

Tuesday October 22nd 4:00-6:30pm

$20 per attendee

In this final iteration of the 2024 Afternoon of Wellness series, participants will explore the therapeutic benefits of storytelling. Using the exhibition "Joel Sternfeld: American Prospects," October 3, 2024 – January 5, 2025, for inspiration, participants will explore the story within the narratives in Sternfeld's photos, discovering commonalities and shared experiences through the process.

Participants will be guided through the exhibition to discover their story. It will be facilitated by Creative Arts Therapist Maria Scaros and Museum Educator Corinne Flax. Reservations required and space is limited.
